KAI

Chile's Best Carmenera, in Robert Parker's The Wine Advocate

Kai 2010 was singled out as the best Carmenera in the same report on Chilean wines released in December in Robert Parker's famous publication, The Wine Advocate.

KAI 2010, 92 POINTS

"The 2010 Kai is the purest Carmenera to date (96%) and the first to employ 90% new oak instead of 100%. It has ripe vanilla-y oak on the nose, but good delineation with layers of primal plum and cassis fruit. The palate is sweet and grippy on the entry with powerful black fruit laced with dark chocolate and a touch of mint. There is good weight and greater symmetry than the 2009. The finish has fine tension: reserved and masculine. Excellent. Drink now-2018." - Neal Martin, December 2012.

WINE & SPIRIT MAGAZINE

KAI 2010 was also highlighted with 92 points by the specialized US magazine Wine & Spirits magazine, in which it was called "the Best of the Year from Chile" and published in a buyer's guide in its February edition, demonstrating the consistency of this Errázuriz icon.

Once again, our icon wines have earned the best scores in the industry in instances that constitute important benchmarks for international wine lovers, starting us off to an excellent 2013!
